Getting Ready for MAP Testing!

Next week, many of our students will participate in the MAP (Measures of Academic Progress) assessments. These assessments provide valuable insights into each student's progress in reading, math, and language usage—helping teachers tailor instruction to individual needs. Leading up to the MAP test, teachers have been reviewing key content and preparing students for success. The photos show 3rd-grade students working together on topics covered throughout the year, and an activity specifically on finding the area.

What can you do as parents to support your child in preparing for MAP testing?

- Prioritize Rest - Make sure your child gets a good night's sleep before each testing day.
- Healthy Start - A balanced breakfast helps with focus and energy levels.
- Talk About It - Remind your child that the MAP test is just one way to show what they know. Encourage a calm, can-do attitude.
- Stay Positive - Celebrate effort, not just results. Let your child know you're proud of their hard work.

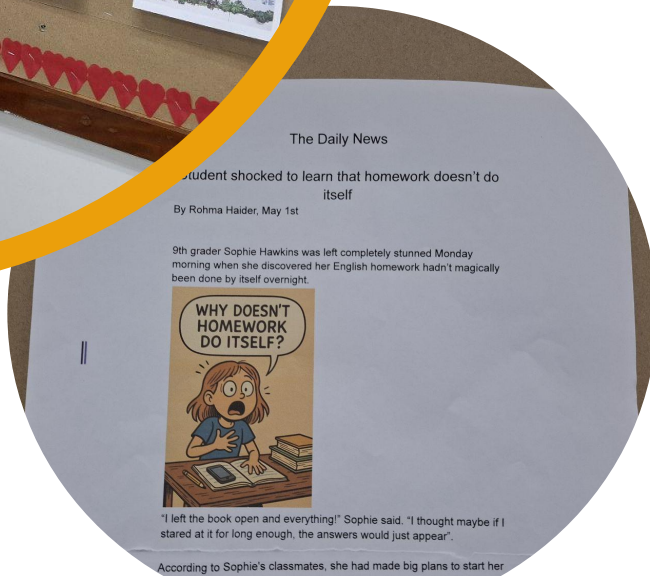

Secondary School ENGLISH Language Arts G9 & 10

In the Grade 9/10 English Language Arts class, the students have been studying satire. As part of this topic, they were tasked with writing articles similar in style to the online satirical newspaper The Onion. To complete the activity, their articles were printed out and posted on our bulletin board. Students then had to read their classmates' articles and answer the following questions:

- Who or what is the target of the satire?
- What type of satire is it, horation, juvenalian, or menippean?
- What devices and methods are being used to create the satirical elements of the article?
